

ART
WEDDING PHOTOGRAPHY

Hi, I'm Sebastian and I am documentary wedding photographer based in Dublin, available Nationwide and Worldwide. Photography is my life, my passion and I always push myself to give that 100% at work. My approach is not about endless group shots but rather about making something unique and beautiful. I would like for my images to tell a story of your beautiful day. I love to 'get in close' and capture the character and subtle interactions between the bride and groom. My wedding photography style could be described as Fun, relaxed, artistic, creative and unique. I create my own world, my own vision, my own style. My vision is to create art from the moments, emotion, light and colour of your wedding – timeless images that will take you back to to each moment. I believe that each part of your wedding day is an integral part of your story and life. My aim is to capture your special day in the most natural and creative way possible. I realize that the last image of the day is as important as the first. I hope this tells you a little about my story.

Thank you for taking the time to view my work.

Engagement Session is something i would really recommend For all couples because, this is a Fantastic opportunity For us to build your confidence in front of a camera and not to mention get some Fabulous relaxed shots. We also get a chance to get to know each other a little bit as well and discuss all of the necessary details of your wedding day. It will help me to find out more about you and your preferences - in regard to photos. For "pre-wedding shoot" we can use location of your choice or you can leave it with me. The experience of working with me before your Big Day will certainly help to relax you on the day and relaxation goes a long way in helping to create your photographs.

FAQ

How would you define your photography style for weddings?

My work can be described in many ways but I like to consider myself as myself as a wedding photojournalist. I love using creative lighting, unique perspectives, angles, compositions and artistic post production, making your wedding unique and unforgettable.

Do you charge extra for travel?

For weddings in Ireland travel expenses are included in any package price. Outside of this area, means Ireland I add minimal rate/flights and accommodation if required.

How do I book you for my wedding photography?

To book your wedding day, I require both a signed contract and deposit to secure your date but also I'd love to meet you to discuss about your wedding day.

Are you registered and insured?

Yes, I am fully registered and insured with public liability and equipment insurance coverage.

How long will I have to wait for my photos?

Usually, it takes around 4-6 weeks after your wedding. There might be a quite longer in peak season (May - September) and obviously quicker after this date.

How many photos I receive?

The amount of images on the thumb drive (depends on the wedding type (decor, details, background, place, weather, people...)) I always try my best to get as many I can. Usually it's from 5000 to 12000 images. All of them are edited and ready to print. There is no any watermark on the images.

Will there be an online gallery to share with family and friends?

As part of my service, I post images on my blog after your approval for your review. It's the easiest way to share your photos with family and friends.

Do I need a second photographer?

This is the hardest question for the bride and the groom ever !! Well... It's the biggest day of your life. With a large crowd there is always something interesting happening. If you and your fiancée are getting ready at separate locations or if your ceremony is at one venue and your reception is at another several miles away, two photographers can be an incredible asset. While one photographer can stay with you the second gets your fiancée getting ready. One photographer can take formal family pictures at the ceremony site while the other takes candid shots of guests enjoying the cocktail hour at drink bar. One of the most important aspects of a having second photographer is our ability to give you greater photo coverage and depth. A second photographer will give you the opportunity to capture additional angles, moments, and memories.

Thanks for your enquiry!

I'd love to meet you to discuss about your wedding day
so please do not hesitate and contact me
